DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because figure 1 depicts gas supply 142 as being a source of H₂, however, the specification ~~does not~~ disclose the use of inert gases Ar, He and Kr rather than H₂. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 6, gas supply 136 is said to be a source of CF₄, gas supply 142 is said to be a source of N₂ and gas supply 148 is said to be a source of Ar. These characterizations do not correspond with the depiction in figure 1.

Additionally, the examiner notes that the specification makes reference to claim numbers when discussing various claim limitations. This requires particular attention should the application issue as a patent because upon issue of the patent, claim numbers are subject to change.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Recent Statutory Changes to 35 U.S.C. § 102(e)

On November 2, 2002, President Bush signed the 21st Century Department of Justice Appropriations Authorization Act (H.R. 2215) (Pub. L. 107-273, 116 Stat. 1758 (2002)), which further amended 35 U.S.C. § 102(e), as revised by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) (Pub. L. 106-113, 113 Stat. 1501 (1999)). The revised provisions in 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) are completely retroactive and effective immediately for all applications being examined or patents being reexamined. Until all of the Office's automated systems are updated to reflect the revised statute, citation to the revised statute in Office actions is provided by this attachment. This attachment also substitutes for any citation of the text of 35 U.S.C. § 102(e), if made, in the attached Office action.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraph of 35 U.S.C. § 102 in view of the AIPA and H.R. 2215 that forms the basis for the rejections under this section made in the attached Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

35 U.S.C. § 102(e), as revised by the AIPA and H.R. 2215, applies to all qualifying references, except when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. For such patents, the prior art date is determined under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as it existed prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. § 102(e)).

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraph of 35 U.S.C. § 102 prior to the amendment by the AIPA that forms the basis for the rejections under this section made in the attached Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

For more information on revised 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) visit the USPTO website at www.uspto.gov or call the Office of Patent Legal Administration at (703) 305-1622.

Claims 7-10 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 6,284,149 issued to Li et al. (hereinafter, Li).

Li teaches using a mixture of C₄F₈ and N₂, with a 3:45 flow ratio, to etch a layer of low k dielectric material such as BCB that overlies a nitride layer. See column 11.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Li as applied to claims 7-10 and 11 above, and further in view of US Patent 6,325,861 issued to Stinnett.

Li teaches etching a layer of low k dielectric material such as BCB that overlies both an oxide layer and a nitride layer. See figure 5 and column 6, line 56 - column 7, line 67.

Li does not teach using CF₄ as the fluorocarbon etchant or including Ar as a component of the etching gas mixture.

Stinnett teaches etching dielectrics such as oxides, nitrides and BCB with an etchant mixture such as CF₄, N₂ and Ar.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to add Ar to the etchant of Li because Stinnett teaches that Ar enhances the sputtering aspect of the etching process

Art Unit: 1763

(column 5, lines 6-8). It would have been obvious to use CF₄ because Stinnett teaches that CF₄ functions equivalently to the C₄F₈ of Li. Additionally, Li teaches that Dow Chemical, the manufacturer of BCB, recommends etching with CF₄ and Ar (column 4, lines 40-44).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
